

Forcing the past aside, breaking old walls, unleashing the future—a blast of excitement releases the seeds of tomorrow and hurls them to a new ground. Marked by an air of intenseness and the capriciousness of youth, the most irrepressible segment of the population rushes toward adulthood. Molded by the uneasy era following the war years and tempered by more freedom and individual benefits than any generation before them, each experiences the inseparable fun and furor of being young. Under extraordinary pressure to excel, individual knowledge is broader and courses are more demanding than ever. Muddling through tedious tests and improbable problems, the days are completed twanging on a guitar, rushing to committee meetings, or sprawling on the beach. Living, laughing, loving—most are unaware of a childhood fast slipping away. Youth, then, is a bright bubble tossed about flippantly, only appreciated when beyond the grasp.

Fun and friendships in large and small groups are remembered and valued. For here—in cheering crowds or with close friends—here the individual begins . . .

Individually, each seeks an identity, testing his values and ideals under the scrutiny of contemporaries and adults.

And life is frantic, life is serious;
Living is always to be doing something.

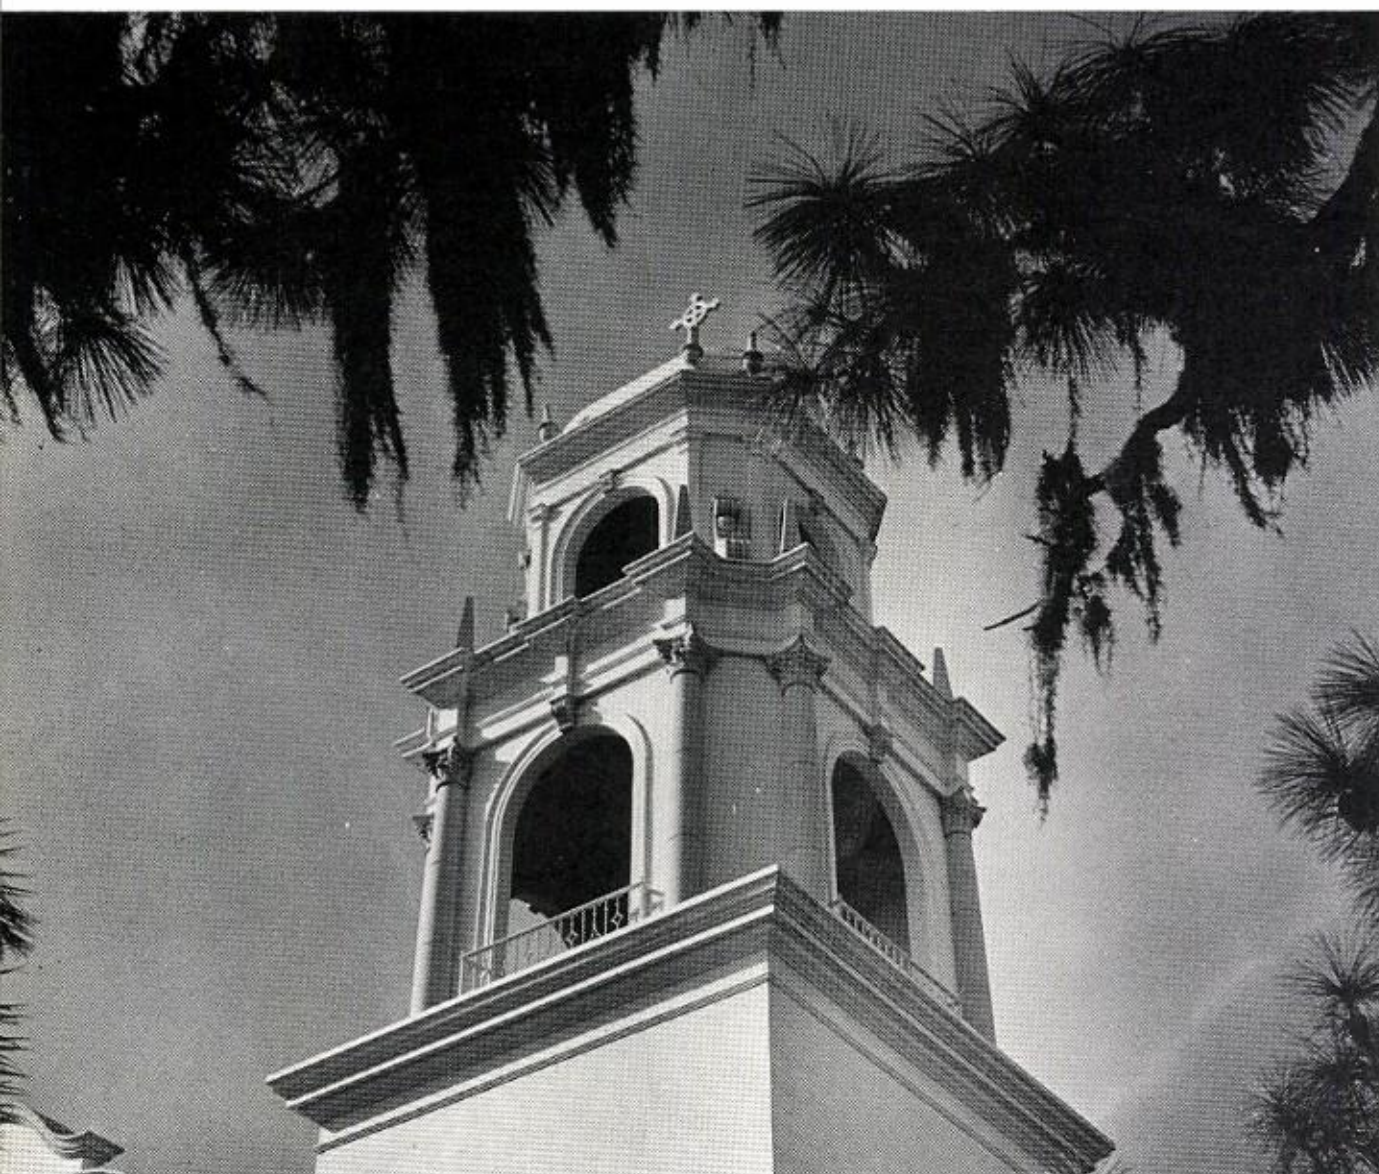

Learning means study, questioning, research—a small price for the multiple rewards of fun, enlightenment, and an opened mind.

MacKinlay Kantor

A realization of responsibilities, a sudden searching for something to believe in . . . and one begins to think more seriously about life and the future.

The Year

Sometimes frustrating and hectic — occasionally depressing — often amusing and riotous — frequently challenging — eventually satisfying and rewarding. Separate memories blur into a few impressions; as time passes only these fleeting visions remain to capture the events of the year.

The traditional bonfire pep rally adds fuel to Homecoming spirit.

A jungle scene, symbolic of the Homecoming theme, "Lion Hunt," captures first prize for Homeroom 713 in the decorating contest. The display features a frightened lion with blinking eyes and a native thumping on bongo drums.

KING-Size Victory

Climaxing the victory over the King High Lions, star halfback, Richard Trapp, is awarded the Tommy Paul trophy. Mr. Paul, an ardent 'Cane fan, presents the annual award to the outstanding player in this game.

Following the bonfire, students join hands and spirits in a snake dance.

Climaxes Colorful Homecoming Celebrations

Hustle-bustle; hurry-scurry; times' a wastin—got to hasten; first a theme—then we scheme; building frames for jungle 'Canes—Lion threatens but in vain; Pep band plays—students gaze; bonfire blazes—spirit raises; all join hands—snake expands. Pretty cars, red and blue—better add some streamers too; down the street—day complete; big game soon—see the moon. Now alumni, students arrive—pretty sponsors, crowd alive; position ready—kick off steady—emotions surge—players merge; students cheer—victory near; buzzer blaring—score declaring; don't be shook—take a look. Game is over, dance begins—beat is catchy, music ends. Week all over, work all done—isn't Homecoming fun?

Decorating her car in red, white, and blue, Yvonne Rivers prepares for the Pep Parade.

A "Bugler's Holiday" is played by trumpet trio Tommy Quarinby, Dave Fagan, and Jim Frain.

Beverly Hayman copped the Mammy talent award for her presentation of "Tarantella."

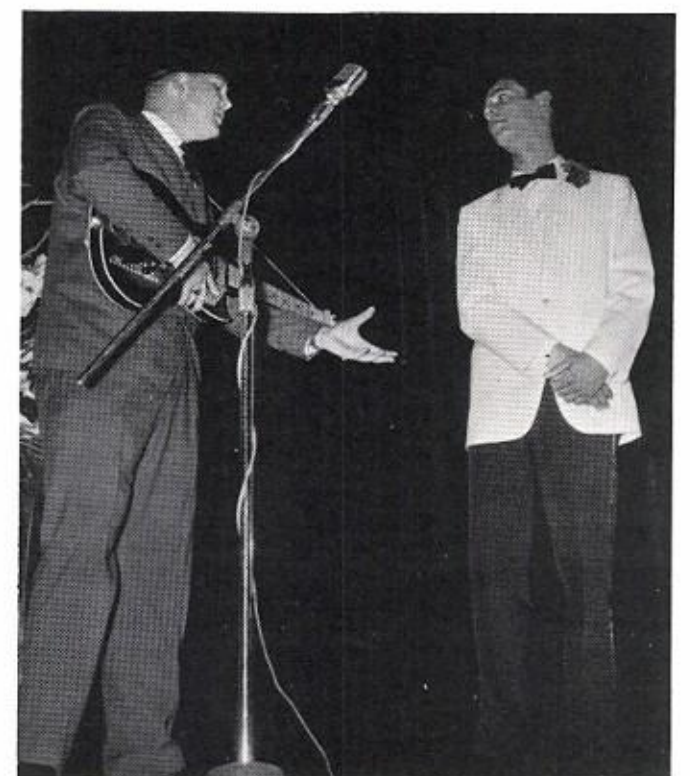

Penny Tasch and Greg Lucas perform an adagio.

Alan Perkins, Mark Sarason, Gary Ogden, and Chuck Cooper portray the humorous situations which might arise "If Men Played Cards as Women Do."

A percussion ensemble consisting of Dan Snow, Eddie DeSear, Skip Kitchner, Terry Nipper, Ruth Ritchie, and Joe Beiro present "Percussionata."

Emcee Curtis Tutterrow is confronted by a hopeful "Beatle," Dick Hyde.

Variety Show Feature Production Of JAMBOREE

Second place in talent competition was won by Bonnie Loring for her organ rendition of "Toccata" from the Suite Gothique.

A saxophone quartet, Dick Dickinson, Doug Wallace, JoAnne Lopez, and Alf Hager play with a neat beat.

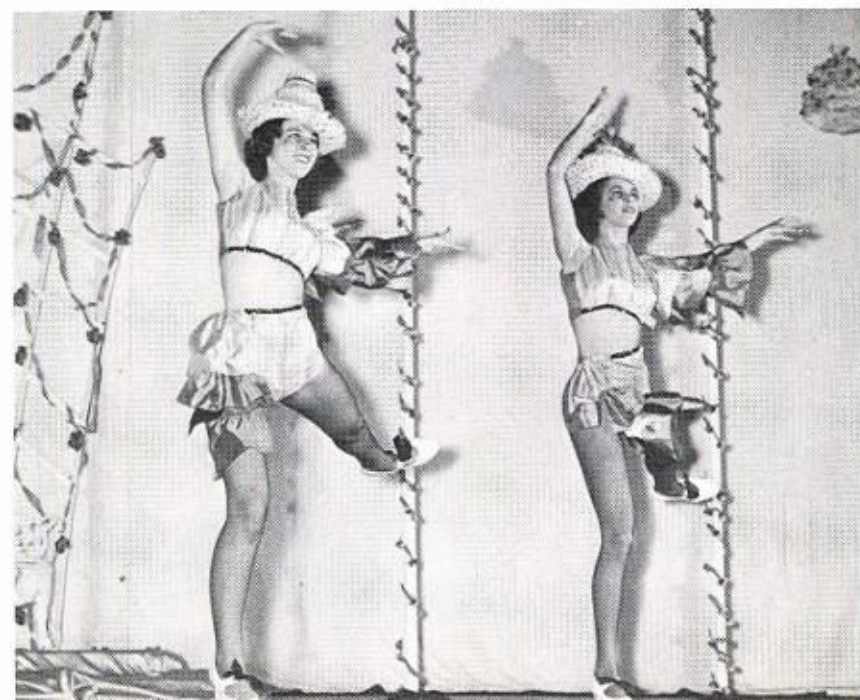

A ballet from "Gigi" captures third place for Linda Snapp in the talent show.

The 'Cane Choraliers, under the direction of Mr. Robert Forsell, offer a musical tribute to the Belles.

From a Spanish tango to the "Charleston," Glenna Neumaster and Sara Ezell dance.

Jamboree 1964 arrived amidst an atmosphere of Southern plantations, slapstick comedy, and all-round entertainment. Twelve lovely "Southern Belles" reigned over the annual two-day festivities, climaxed by the coronation of Queen Manatee XVII, Beverly Hayman, and her Royal Princess, Joani Mayers.

Under the direction of Mr. Eugene Mazzone and student chairman, Gary Ogden, a variety show was organized incorporating talent of candidates and other groups. Master of ceremonies, Curtis Tutterrow and comedian, Ted Sauter, introduced acts and provided humor between scenes.

Following a tribute by the 'Cane Choraliers to last year's Queen, Lana Hagenstad, members of the Jamboree Court competed for the Mammy talent award. Beverly Hayman copped first place for her piano selection of "Tarantella."

Climaxing Jamboree festivities was the crowning of Queen Manatee XVII Beverly Hayman by retired principal, Mr. Paul Davis. Joani Mayers was named Royal Princess.

Satire, Comedy

Ann Schaut and Linda Lavender discuss the future of soldier, Jon Baker. Ann's performance won for her "Best Actress Award" in the sophomore play.

Carried away by it all, James King, as Alistair, does a jazz step for the horrified Oleta, Letty Lynn Smith.

Kathy Lease copped "Best Actress Award" in her portrayal of Georgiana Quakenbush.

Delight Audience At ONE-ACT PLAYS

Opening an evening of delightful comedy, the sophomores presented "The Boy Comes Home." Jon Baker, returning soldier, finds his future a controversial subject. Other members of the cast are Bruce Watson and Ann Schaut as Uncle James and Aunt Emily; Cheryl Seavy as the maid, and Linda Lavender as the housekeeper.

Blackmail and comedy highlighted the junior production of "Big Shot." Young David Cluett, portrayed by Tom French, fosters a lost dog without the consent of his mother, Beth Taylor. Performers include Janice Marshall as Fluffy Campbell, Lynda Keever as Mattie Dolan; Ruth Ann Shane and Ted Sauter as Mrs. Farham and her son Fenimore; and Rick Rudolph as Dr. Gumpel.

Advice on "How to Capture and Keep a Husband" was humorously presented by Kathy Lease as lecturer, Miss Georgiana Quakenbush, in the senior play. The three couples illustrating her philosophy were Kendrick and Oleta, played by Alan Perkins and Letty Lynn Smith; Alistair and Winona, portrayed by James King and Betsy Lynch; and Osgood and Charlene, played by Gary Ogden and Laura Alderdice.

Faculty directors of the play were Mr. Eugene Mazzone assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Glayre, Mr. Ronald Fortner, and Mrs. Jimmie Morel.

Starring in a farce about love and marriage, Gary Ogden, Kathy Lease, Alan Perkins, Laura Alderdice, Letty Smith, Betsy Lynch, and James King rehearse before curtain call.

Jon Baker captured the "Best Actor Award" for the evening.

Beth Taylor, Bob Cotterman, and Doyle Coker ridicule Mathew McCarthy's knickers.

Junior Players Shake Dolson Family Tree

Hildegard Dolson's delightful modern comedy "We Shook The Family Tree," was the second junior class production of the season.

In this amusing farce, Hildegard (Marjorie Raines), as a dateless teenager, entangles a web of calamity around her family and friends.

Included in the cast were Doyle Coker, Rick Rudolph, Mary Jane Noll, Anne Fair, Bob Cotterman, Mathew McCarthy, Julie Hilliard, Beth Taylor, Cheryl Egan, Richard Jackson, and Ruth Kaylor.

Doyle Coker tackles Richard Jackson as Rick Rudolph, Marjorie Raines, Mathew McCarthy, and Beth Taylor stare in astonishment.

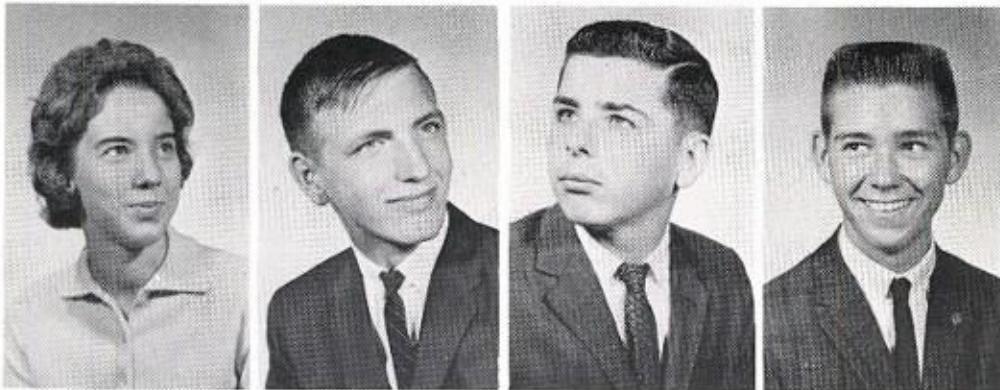

Mr. Ronald Johnston, guidance director, talks to Patsy Lockhart, Steve Brown, Dan Connors, Lona O'Connor, Pete Dias, Jack Sampsel, and Allen Butler, finalists and Honorable Mention Winners in the National Merit Scholarship tests.

In keeping with the policy set forth by the school board, seniors in the top 4 per cent are graduated with Highest Honors and those in the top 10 per cent are graduated with Honors.

Graduates who complete the list of the top 10 per cent (the top 4 per cent are pictured below) include—Marie Bower, Allen Butler, Jack Cavanaugh, Trevor Cramer, Paula Crowder, Mary Lee Crowley, Gail Curry, Edward DeSear, Naomi Dietz, Janice Eddy, Joanne Eddy, Betsy Harris, Don Hastings, Gary Ogden, Susan Owen, Sandra Parker, Jody Rucker, Jack Sampsel, Michael Shay, Donald Sheffield, Nancy Tin, Stephen Tracy, Shari Woodward.

Although known for his humor, Sid has his studious moments, too.

Philippines, Australia

Sid and Gail sing the Kiwanis Song with President Tom Wallace.

Gail Shannon participates in American cultural activities in the Manatee Players' production, "The Corn Is Green."

Miss Velma James, English Exchange teacher, portrays Eliza Doolittle at the faculty dinner honoring Mr. Paul Davis, retiring principal.

Norway, England, Meet In FOREIGN EXCHANGE

From all over the world come Manatee's exchangers—three American Field Service students and a teacher on a Fulbright Scholarship.

The first Manatee student to participate in AFS "summer abroad" program, Betty Miller spent six weeks in beautiful Norwegian fiord country; learning European culture, hiking over mountains, eating goat's milk cheese, and speaking a new language—experiences which are never forgotten.

From a picturesque artists' community "down under" comes Australian Gail Shannon, an active member of the community. Taking a lead part in the Manatee Players' production, "The Corn Is Green," Gail portrayed Bessy Watty. Isidro dela Cruz from the Republic of the Phillipines finds Florida climate similar, but life very different. Sid believes Manatee is less difficult scholastically than his former school. Together the exchangers have given many speeches, and on returning home will tell of life here.

Exchanging with Mr. Harvey Gobin is Miss Velma James, an English girls' schoolteacher.

Betty Miller, the first Manatee High School delegate of the American Abroad Program, mounts souvenirs of her Norwegian summer home.

Exchangers pausing on the steps of the Capitol are Mr. Ben Tillett, Mrs. Jeanne Parrish, Miss Velma James, Representative James Haley, Bonnie Terrill, Kathy Becker, Rebecca Lagle, Judy Shiek, Chris Torgeson, Nancy Bird, Sandy Shymanski, Janet Reid, Linda Hoffman, Gilda Murdock, Lynn Pritchard, Renie Canada, Roseann Umana, Carolyn Crutchfield, Geraldine Raines, Matthew McCarthy, Tom Leonard, David Cheshire, Mike Hicks, Bernie Clark, Chuck Forrest, Bob Bayliss, Bob Coleman, Bob Levenson, Arthur Skinner, Warren May, Doyle Coker, Lanny Cecka, Ronnie Jackson, and Larry Diehl.

Homeless at that time, the Exchangers work at football games to raise money for their trip.

Amid the swords of the DeSoto Conquistadores, the 1963-64 Domestic Exchange left for their trip to New York City, Washington, D. C., and Williamsburg, Virginia, in late February.

Their stay in New York City included a tour of the United Nations, visits to Grant's Tomb, Harlem, Greenwich Village, the Empire State Building, Chinatown, Lincoln Center, and Macy's Department Store for shopping.

Washington, D. C. was next on the itinerary with visits to Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, President John F. Kennedy's grave, and the Capitol. A special surprise was in store for the Exchange when they were guests of the Spanish Embassy in Washington. It was one of the few occasions when a student group was invited to the Embassy. The invitation was extended because of the Ambassador's interest in the DeSoto Celebration.

The Exchangers held four fish fries to raise money.

At the Spanish Embassy in Washington, D.C., Exchangers watch Mr. Ben Tillett, Mrs. Jeanne Parrish, and Miss Velma James, Exchange sponsors, present Mr. Antonio Garrigues, Spanish Ambassador to the United States, with a program of the 1964 DeSoto celebration.

Mr. Richardson, a graduate of Manatee High, lectures to the Exchangers at the Lincoln Memorial. While shopping, the Exchangers stop to admire crowded Fifth Avenue.

Late-President John F. Kennedy, Governor Farris Bryant, and Senator George Smathers seek votes in Tampa for the 1964 elections.

Uncertain Peace, Progress, Tragedy Highlight

Lynda Baines, daughter of the President, President Lyndon B. Johnson, Lynda Bird, daughter of the President, and Mrs. Johnson, wife of the President, attend a Democratic campaign dinner following Mr. Johnson's launching of the cross Florida barge canal. The dinner was held in Miami following the ground breaking ceremonies for the barge canal which was held near Palatka.

The world hesitated, deeply shocked by the assassination of John F. Kennedy. Few experienced the blow as closely as Lyndon B. Johnson, former Vice-president who assumed control of the stunned nation.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold MacMillan resigned, controversially naming his successor Lord Douglas-Home; Lester Pearson replaced Canadian Prime Minister Robert Diefenbaker; Australia's Liberal Party retained governmental power. Ludwig von Erhardt assumed West German chancellorship from Conrad Adenauer. Viet Nam took steps to preserve Nationalistic government.

After Pope John's death, the new Pope Paul VI encouraged reunification by his unprecedented tour of the Holy Land.

LEADERS Guide Classes, Select Committees, Attend State

Participating in a week of leadership activities during the summer at Florida State University in Tallahassee, six Manatee delegates studied government operations from the city level to the state. The student body selected the nominees who were then interviewed and the six delegates selected by the American Legion. Governor Farris Bryant and Doyle Conner, Secretary of Agriculture, were featured speakers heard by Boys' State representatives, Don Sheffield, Wiley Parker, Dick Hyde, Richard Trapp, Tom Carnes, and Girls' State representative, Betsy Harris. Climaxing the week at both Boys' and Girls' State was the election of the officers.

Directing the magazine drive and attending to the details of the Junior-Senior Reception, Junior class officers, Bob Cotterman, vice-president; Karen Chudy, secretary; Warren May, president; William Murray, sponsor; and Mary Miller, treasurer; led the largest class in school history. In the October magazine drive, sales totaled $5,868.97 and from then until May, officers worked towards the Junior-Senior Reception.

Sophomore class officers, Mike English, president; Sandi Layton, vice president; Linda Vanderkodde, secretary; Sherri Beech, treasurer; and Raymond Ewers, sponsor; shared the responsibility and privilege of guiding the class through the first year. Working with the sophomore homeroom presidents, they presented the class with suggestions for the class flower, motto, and color. The traditional party and dance were also under their direction.

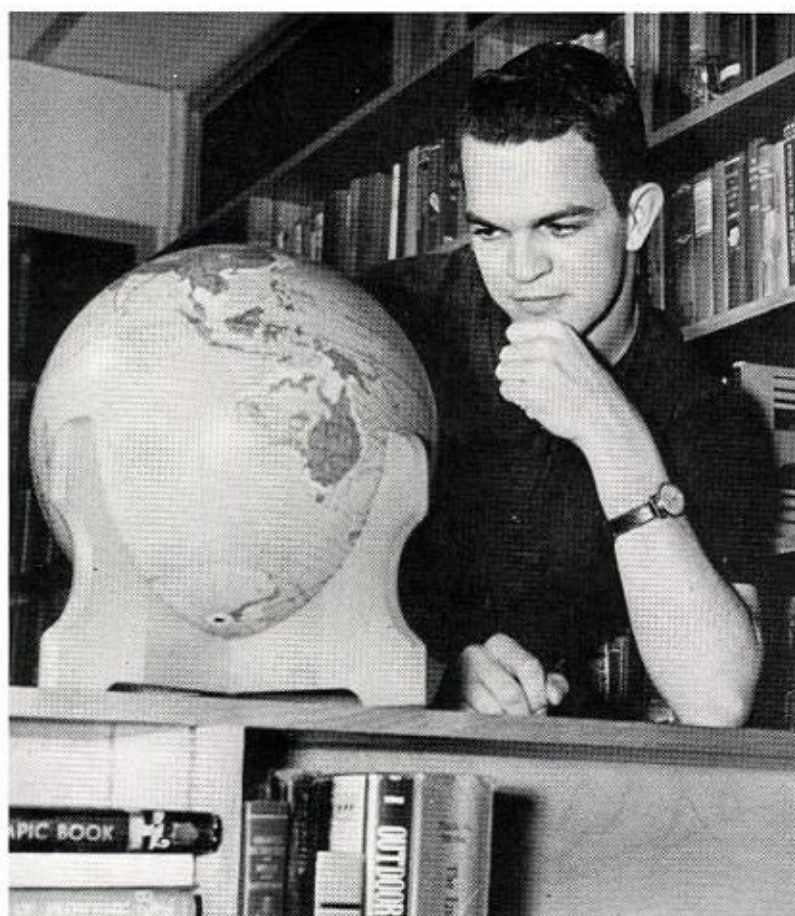

The Student Council officers pursued student recognition of the traditions and ideals of the school. Organization of a pep club, night study hall, welfare drives, Leadership Workshop, elections, and the eleven Student Council committees were responsibilities of the officers: Nancy Tin, vice president; Mary Kaekel, secretary; Gary Ogden, treasurer; Donald Johnson, sponsor; and Wiley Parker, president.

The School

A place for the growth of the individual's process of thought — to the furthering of his ability to enjoy the small things which make up the world that surrounds him — a place where one may learn through association with contemporaries — a place of intellectual and social development.

White columns and red brick blend to reflect the heritage of Manatee, rich in tradition, yet always looking toward the future.

Mid-Term Shift In

A tall, slender man pushed back the double doors and walked past the colonnaded entrance as principal for the last time, leaving behind 20½ rich years of service. And just as quietly, the next morning a new principal took his place in the wood paneled office, ruffled through some papers, and prepared to begin the day with, "And now Wiley has a few announcements."

With characteristic dignity, Paul F. Davis turned over the reins as principal to his successor, Wheeler Leeth, on January 31, 1964. Assuming his office in 1943, he was principal of Bradenton High with an enrollment of less than 500 students; retiring, he leaves the school with a change of name and an enrollment of 1300.

Under his leadership, Manatee High was the first in Florida to use language laboratories, institute a Domestic Exchange program, incorporate Study Day, and was among the first to include in the curriculum an Americanism vs. Communism course.

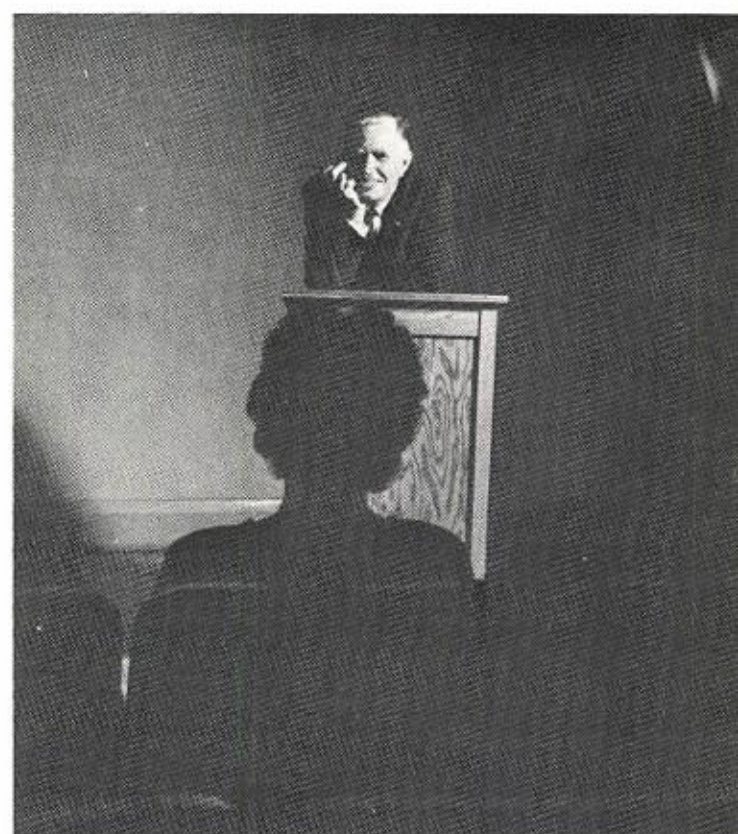

As principal for the remainder of the school year, Wheeler Leeth sought new answers to the old problems:

split assemblies and an overflow of students. Familiar to students as the former athletic director, head football coach, and dean of boys, he returned to Manatee after a one year absence as principal of Bayshore Junior High. The new boys' physical education building was dedicated in his honor when he left for Bayshore. With Mr. Leeth as principal, students continue to look towards the principal's office for guidance.

Mr. J. Hartley Blackburn, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Dr. Richard Stewart, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Instruction; and Mr. William Kittle, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Business, administer school policies.

As the official governing body of the Manatee County educational system, the various components of the administration define general policies regarding the academic, administrative, athletic, and social aspects of Manatee High.

At the center of the administrative complex is J. Hartley Blackburn, Superintendent of Public Instruction. From this vantage point, Mr. Blackburn and his staff have directed the growth and academic accomplishments of Manatee schools.

The board and trustees are composed of outstanding civic, business, and professional leaders of Manatee County. These elected members of the school administration execute many plans aimed at the growth of the individual student.

Individual Development

Mr. George Marshall, Consultant in English and Social Studies; Mr. Ace Cecka, Director of Information; Mr. Philip Doyle, Secondary Supervisor; Mr. Howard Brumfiel, Supervisor of Music; Mrs. Nona Chandler, Supervisor of School Lunch, aid school personnel.

Advisory and regulatory centers for students, the offices of the deans offer personal guidance as well as enforcement of rules. Miss Mildred Emmelhainz, dean of girls, and Mr. Donald Johnson, dean of boys, serve as counselors.

Miss Joe Berta Bullock, director of activities, and Mr. Ronald Johnston, guidance counselor, complete guidance personnel. Miss Bullock regulates all school activities while Mr. Johnston assists students in planning their curriculum, careers, and college applications.

Manatee County School Board members include Mrs. J. P. Harlee, Mr. Robert Bender, Mr. Walter Council, Mrs. Mary Mulvee, Mr. Robert Kessler. Standing are Trustees Dr. Robert White, Mrs. Delta Anderson, and Mr. Vernon DeSear.

Primary Goal Of Administration

From issuing tardy excuses to administering discipline, Miss Mildred Emmelhainz, dean of girls, enforces disciplinary policies. Absentees are checked and admitted through her office. She serves on the American Field Service committee, and also directs the Sugar Canes.

Doubling as Student Council advisor and dean of boys, Mr. Donald Johnson counsels with boys.

Guidance director, Mr. Ronald Johnston, aids students in planning schedules and preparing for continued education and future vocation.

Fourth period each Study Day finds Miss Joe Berta Bullock officiating as sponsor of Inter-Club Council. As director of activities, Miss Bullock coordinates school activities while she also assists the 'Cane Echo and Macchi staffs as publications advisor.

School communications and duplicating jobs are the official functions of Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper, secretary. Up-to-date mimeographing equipment, an electric typewriter, and a switchboard accent the modern facilities vital to an efficient organization.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper

Mrs. Betty Brumfiel, registrar, has general supervision and control of student records. Schedules, transcripts and records combine to make the office of the registrar an important school function.

Mrs. Betty Brumfiel

Mrs. Laura Meadows

Mrs. Laura Meadows, office bookkeeper, handles finances, directing receipts and disbursements. All club, athletic, and publication accounts, and finances for the school in general, pass through office channels.

Mrs. Elizabeth McKinney

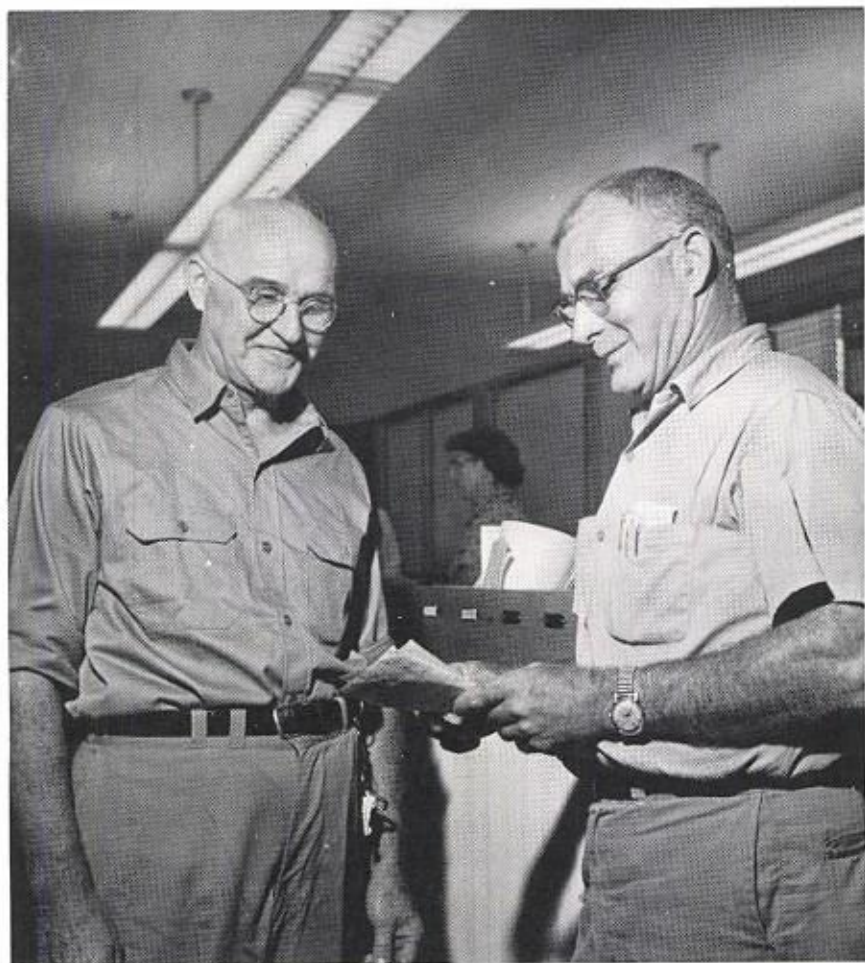

Cafeteria manager, Mrs. Elizabeth McKinney, is responsible for purchasing food, selecting personnel, and providing daily menus for the cafeteria. Mrs. McKinney supervises preparations for the serving of over 1000 students each day.

An expanded and remodeled cafeteria now easily facilitates the growing student population at Manatee. Doubled in size, the cafeteria features more table space and improved serving and disposing facilities as well as a pleasant atmosphere.

Bessie Mae Johnson, Juanita Hamilton, Tena Jackson, Elnora Davis, Dorothy Parrimon, Ada Ferguson, Willie Mae Haisley.

Office, Lunchroom Hub Of Efficient Operations

Mr. Robert Cunningham and Mr. Bud Robison.

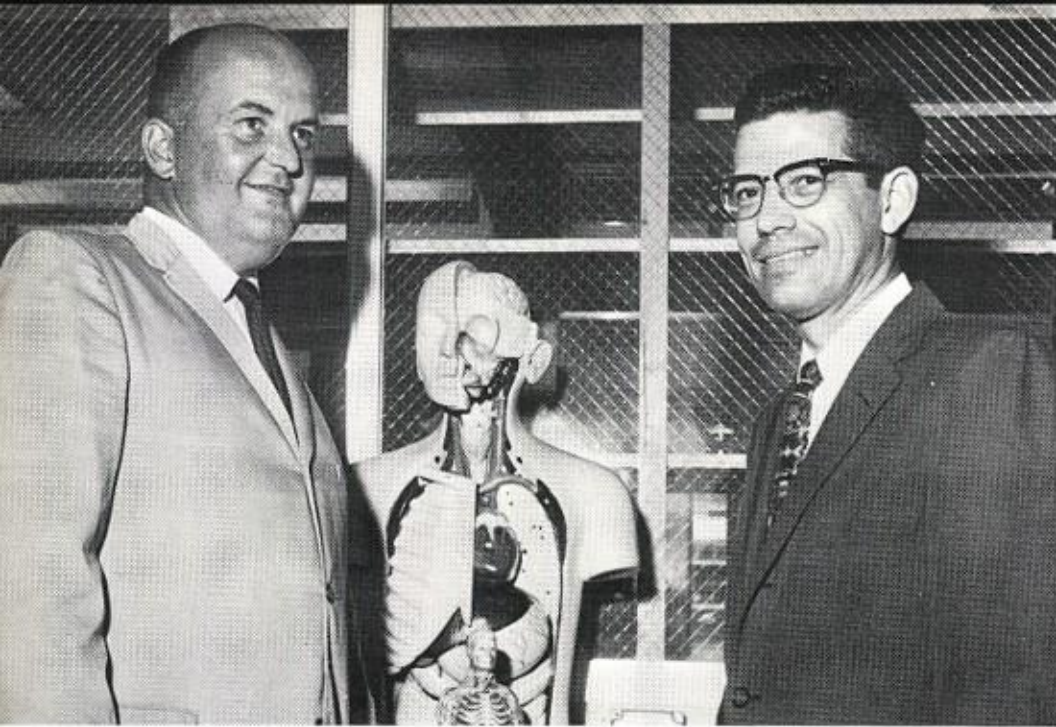

Mr. Bud Robison, head custodian, combines campus repairs and remodeling projects with his general duties. Arriving at 7:00 each morning, Mr. Robison prepares the school for a new day.

Mr. Robert Cunningham replaces Mr. Robison at 3:00 to clean and lock the buildings for the night.

Mrs. Claire Kort, Mrs. Flo Weems, Mrs. Frances Catlett, Mrs. Robbi Hammock, Mrs. Leona Gill, Mrs. Luckie Harreil.

Varied sounds of preparations and tempting smells of cooking foods issue from the Manatee cafeteria each day as 13 cafeteria workers prepare the noon meal. Homemade rolls, pizza, ice cream, and hamburgers are some of the favorites which attract 1,000 students each day.

ENGLISH Offers Adverbs To Zoroaster

Rhonda Cline, Ron Jackson, and Llanda Cline demonstrate the use of the ballad in English Literature class.

At Mr. Paul Davis' retirement party, Mrs. Lois Key portrays a scene from "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Rita Beach, Julie Crum, and Kathy Lockhart use reference materials in the library.

Two things characterize the English department at Manatee High School—outstanding teachers and a challenging curriculum. Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Key, department head, the English teachers are constantly developing new techniques to teach the English language.

For the second year, juniors and seniors choose their English requirements from fourteen semester courses. They must have two literature credits with two other courses chosen according to the individual student's interests and needs.

The subjects cover a wide range of interests from Business English courses to speech, and from grammar to journalism. Advanced classes offered to seniors include World Literature, Advanced Writing, and Humanities (a survey course in logic and philosophy).

Everyone is eager to answer Mr. Ronald Fortner's questions during English Class.

Founded in 1918, the Lanier English Club is the oldest organization of its kind on the West Coast of Florida. Named for Sidney Lanier, the southern poet, the main purposes of the English Club are to encourage creative writing among the students and to give them an opportunity to meet outstanding writers and journalists.

Students submit original poems, essays, and stories to be published in the Manatee Masterpieces. The club also gives a Sarah Fleming Award of $10.00 to the student who has written the outstanding poem of the year. Name and address stickers are sold by the members to finance the booklet and the banquet at the end of the year. To be eligible for membership, one must have a "B+" average in English.

A special guest of the English Club this year was Mr. MacKinlay Kantor, Pulitzer prize winning author and resident of Siesta Key. Mr. Kantor spoke about problems in writing and gave advice to journalists.

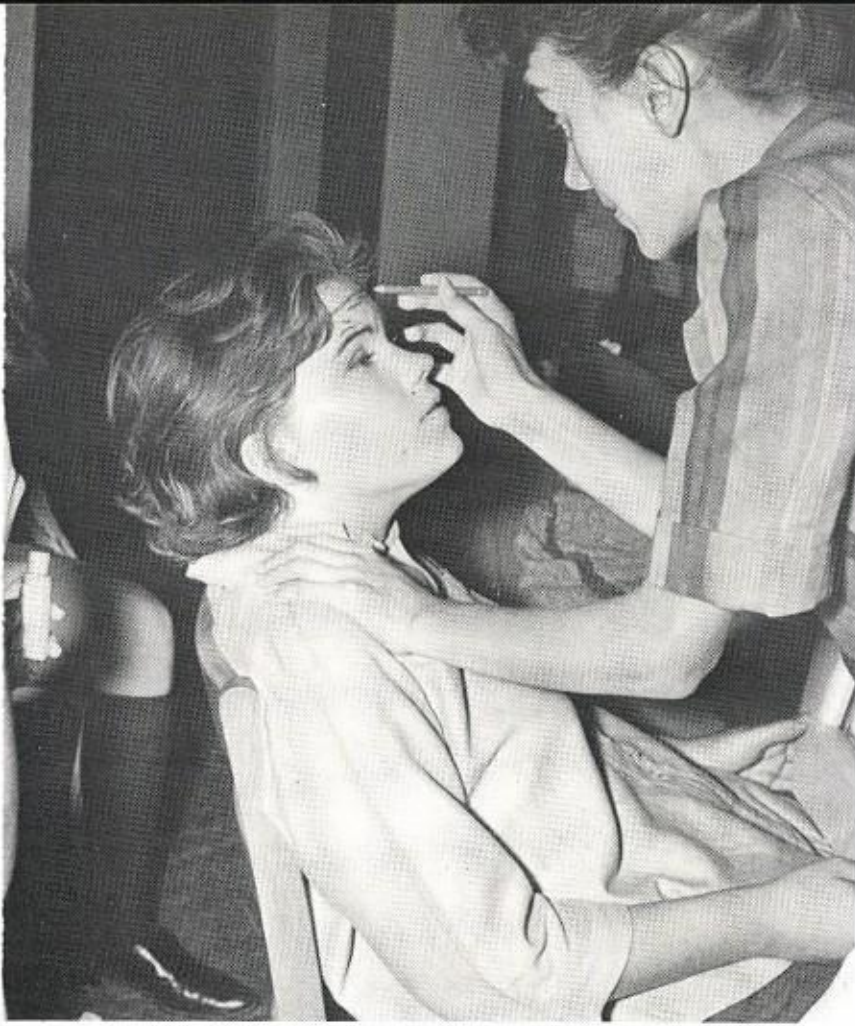

Donna Meadows and Mrs. Nettie Hult, sponsor, question Mr. MacKinlay Kantor before introducing him to the English Club.

Works Afternoons, Nights, To Meet Deadlines

As club editor, Gene Quillian must assemble pages, write copy, and plan pictures for school organizations.

A small group of people becomes an annual staff. Advertising prospects are discussed and assigned. Meetings are held and techniques are learned.

Summer vacation marks the beginning of preparations for a 'Cane Echo that will not be finished until the following spring.

The task of producing an annual is tedious, as well as long. Many hours, both during and after school, are dedicated to meeting ominous deadlines.

A staff member's duties are numerous; not until the books are delivered at the close of the school year can he consider his job completed.

It is necessary several times during the year for the annual staff to work late into the evening to meet a deadline. The staff is taking time out only to grab a sandwich during one session.

Valeen Moore and David Kinghorn check a layout for their junior class section before seeking the aid of an advisor.

MACOHI Staff Performs Continuous Task

Miss Joe Berta Bullock, Macohi advisor, hears Mr. J. Hartley Blackburn commend Lona O'Connor on her editorial in memory of John F. Kennedy.

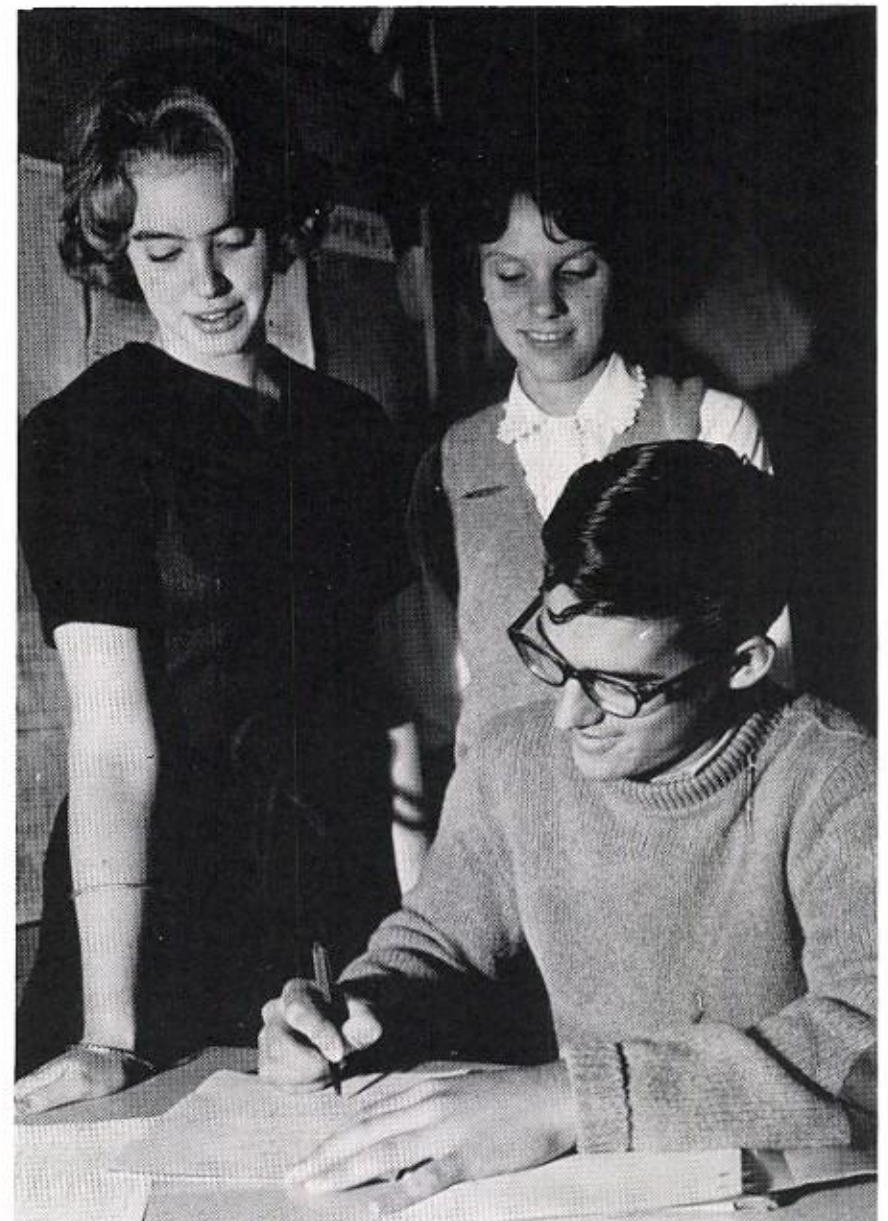

With the posting of a sheet which informs reporters of their assignments, a new issue of the Macohi is begun. In an effort to complete their copy before an impending deadline, staff members begin to gather facts, figures, and information for their articles.

When all copy has been written, it is sent to the printers and set on a proof sheet. In this form the copy is returned to the staff, whose duty is to catch and correct all errors. After being returned to the printers, the material is printed on slick paper.

Finally the Macohi is ready for paste-up. Pages are distributed among staff members who gather glue pots, scissors, rulers, and other equipment needed to assemble a layout for the newspaper.

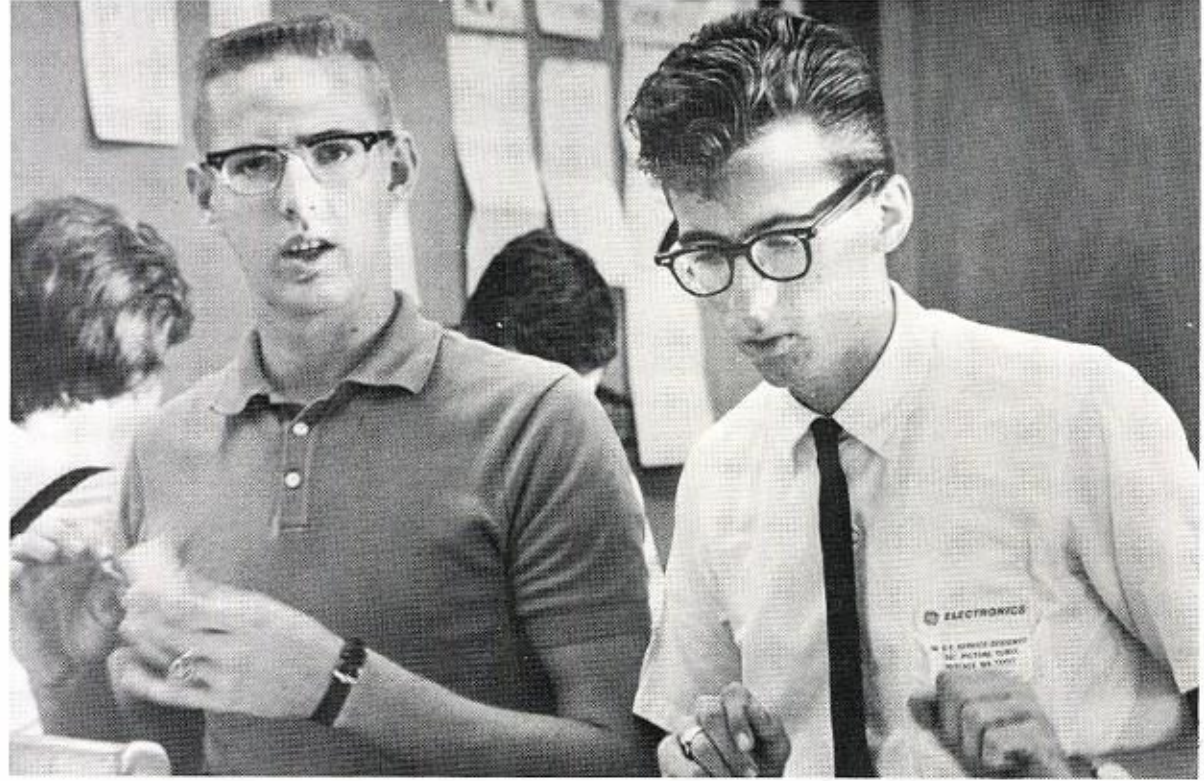

The last step completed, reporters and editors begin the ordeal again and gather new material.

Pan-American Club traveled through South America with programs of imaginary tours given by members. These included skits, slides, and souvenir displays. New members were initiated at a special meeting where they addressed old members respectfully as Señor or Señora.

The climax of the year came in April at the annual Fiesta. Following the theme of the year, the travelers reunited after the long trip; they compared souvenirs and decorations, sang songs and taught each other native dances. The menu was made from recipes collected from Spanish-speaking countries. The fiesta was highlighted by the breaking of a pinata filled with candy.

School Broadens Educational Opportunities

Learning the mechanics of an outboard motor are Russell Stock, Romie Davis, and Jim Hinkle.

In educational facilities, the Vocational and Technical Center, located near Manatee Junior College, is the newest innovation in Manatee County.

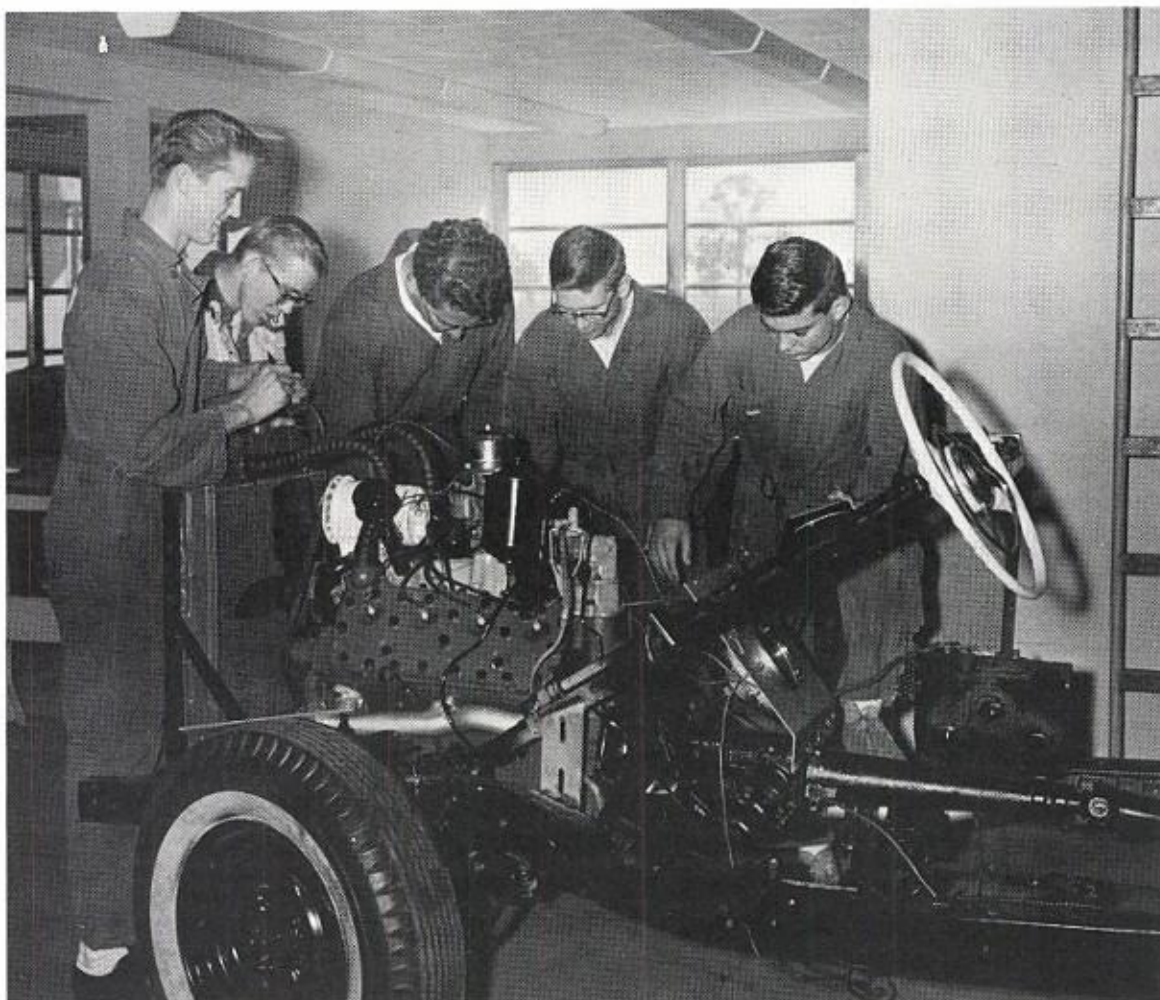

The necessity for vocational training has been evident for the past several years. Due to the increasing technological developments of this everchanging world, the role of the unskilled, uneducated worker has diminished. Demand for skilled workers with a specific trade has increased considerably.

Manatee County is meeting this demand by creating an opportunity to master a skill at the vocational school.

The school offers a variety of courses for the students. Included are cosmetology, electronics, drafting, machine shop, heating and air conditioning, small motors, and auto mechanics. These classes are attended three hours daily with transportation provided by bus.

Although designed primarily for the non-college bound student, the vocational school has given some the incentive for further study.

Auto mechanics offers students an opportunity to work on engines. Tuning up one of the motors are Dave Bohlken, Fred Holley, Joe Newman, Paul Barricklow, and Tom Sheff.

Vocational agriculture offers students instruction in the modern methods of farming.

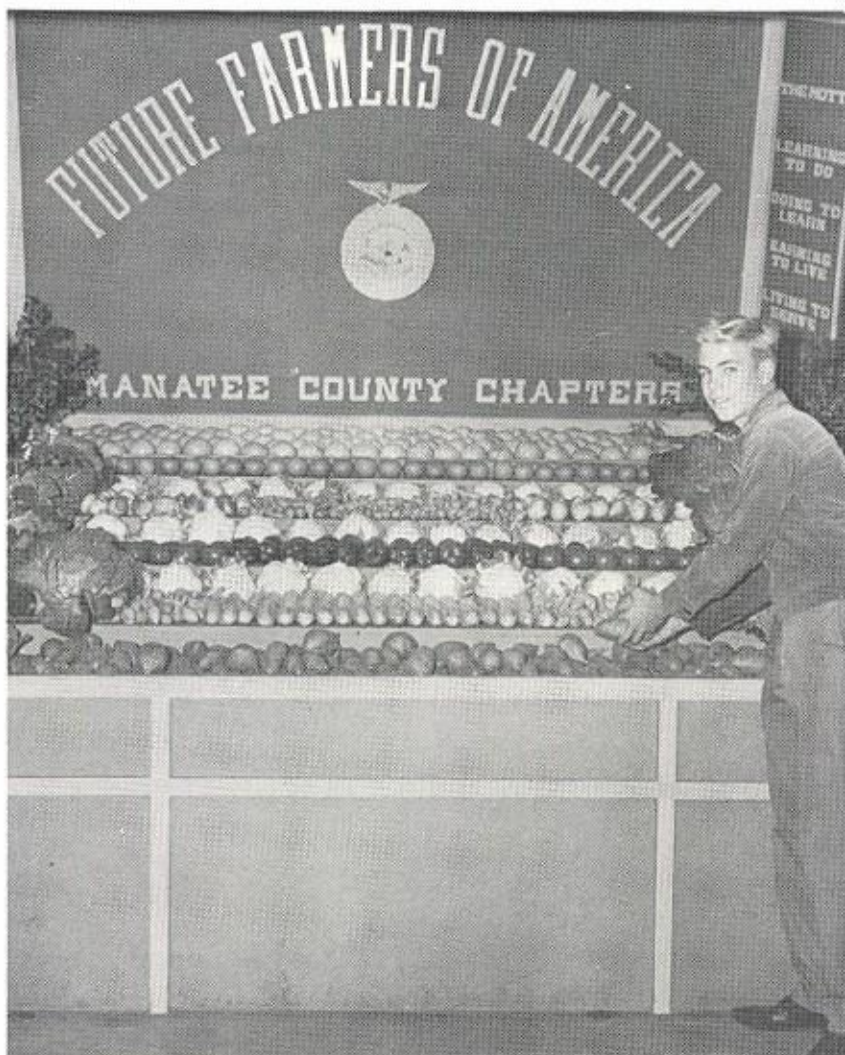

Students are first taught in the classroom the methods and skills of agriculture. Then they are given an opportunity to directly apply these methods at the agriculture plot located behind Bayshore Junior High. The plot consists of ten acres with a modern greenhouse and an equipment building. Grown on the plot are strawberries, beans, and black-eyed peas.

The horticulture division of agriculture grows an assortment of plants and flowers on the plot. These plants beautify campuses throughout the country.

The Future Farmers of America, which is comprised of students in vocational agriculture, are busy throughout the year with various activities. The main event of the year is the annual dinner and Sweetheart Contest. Judging of the contestants is based on beauty, talent, and performance. Future Farmers enter beef cattle, dairy cattle, and swine in both the county fair and state fair.

Also, the Future Farmers participate in the county soil judging contest. Next is the sub district contest in which agriculture students throughout the county compete in tractor driving, parliamentary procedure, public speaking, and music contests. Winners advance to the state contest. The top performers at state are awarded a trip to the national FFA convention.

The agriculture building contains much literature on farming methods. Bob McClannan, Sam Porter, Ron Simcox, Jack Phillips, and Bill Hine look over agriculture pamphlets.

Available positions, filled by audition, include five saxophones, one drum, four trombones, one string bass, and four cornets. Vocalist for the Raisin' 'Canes is selected by officers of the group.

Leading the dance band this year are Alfie Hager, manager; Bob Levenson, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Bayliss, custodian.

18 Musicians From Band, Vocal Departments Delegates To Florida State-Wide CLINIC

An annual event for outstanding musicians and vocalists is the State Music Clinic. For several years, Manatee has been represented at these meetings by delegations selected by Mr. Charles Quarmby and Mr. James Forssell.

Band members are selected according to outstanding interests and accomplishments shown throughout the year. Upon being chosen, the students are assigned to a group in which they will participate. These groups include a reading band, reading orchestra, concert band, concert orchestra, and dance band. All students audition for chairs within their groups, with the best musician occupying first chair, etc.

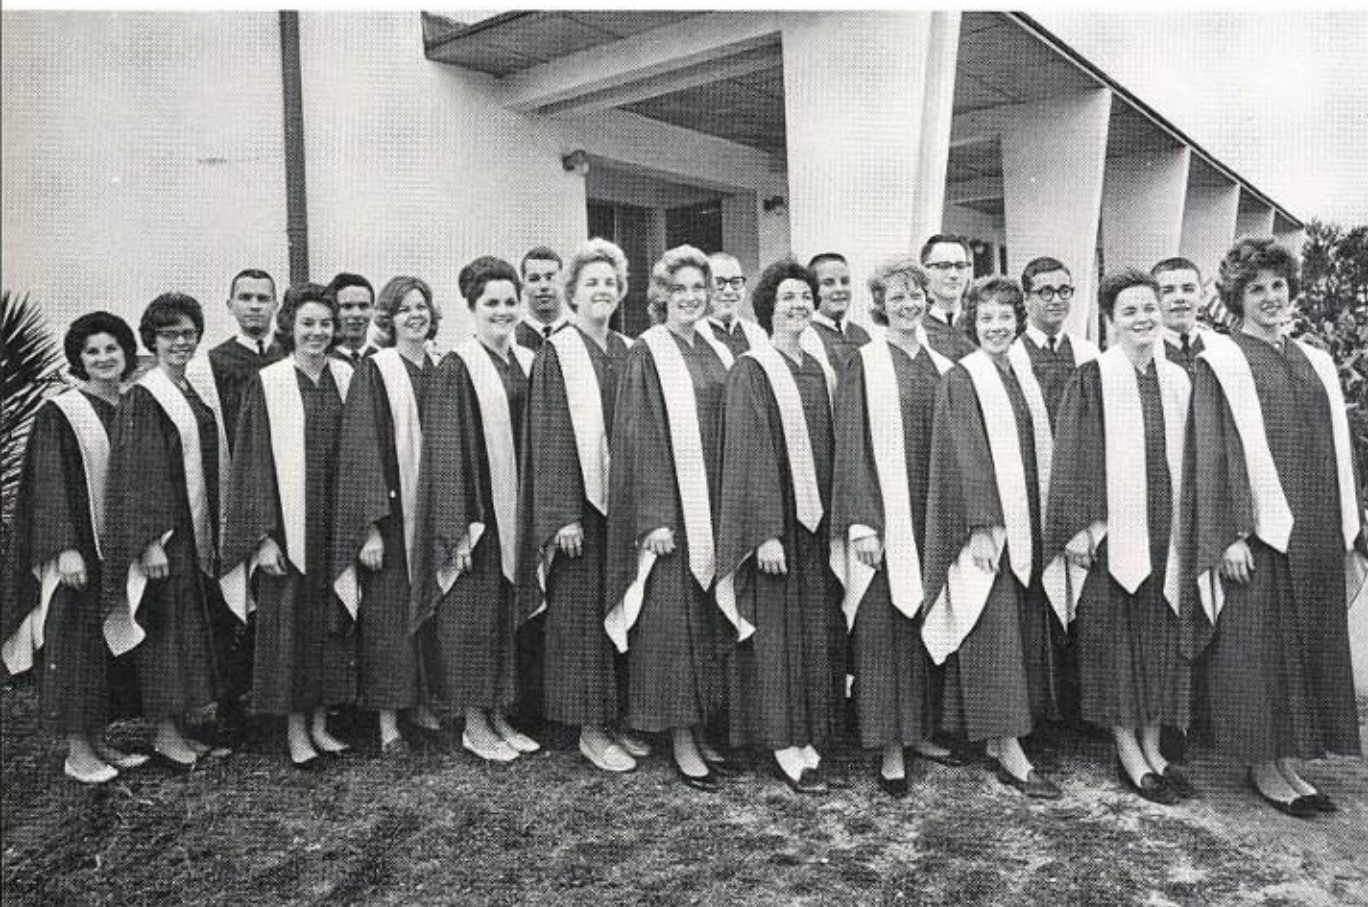

The procedure for Vocal Clinic is similar, but students wishing to attend must audition before Mr. Forssell. Those selected as delegates then begin to practice various musical selections.

Members of the Glee Club, who are chosen by audition for their vocal talent, perform at school assemblies, at Jamboree, and for many social and civic groups in Bradenton.

This year the Glee Club participated in the Christmas concert, "Spectrum in Glory," in which they presented several holiday selections.

Also appearing in the concert was the Madrigal, whose members are selected from all sections of the music department because they have displayed some outstanding talent or accomplishment. Other activities for this group are providing music for morning devotions over the public address system, and singing in study day assemblies.

This year Manatee was host for the District II Vocal Contest, in which both the Madrigal and Glee Club took part. The contest consisted of concert and sight reading.

Members of Concert Choir practice selections during third period.

Representing Manatee High School at music clinics, offering sparkling entertainment with Christmas concerts, and performing before the student body during Study Day assemblies are 65 members of Concert Choir.

The entire group spends third period each day practicing various vocal exercises. From these sessions the young vocalists receive voice training, as well as performance skills.

At the district concert, the choir takes an active part in singing and sight reading contests. Those members receiving a rating of "superior" are privileged to attend state contest.

Under the direction of Mr. James Forssell, Concert Choir is led this year by Gary Ogden, president; James May, vice-president; Carolyn Crutchfield, secretary; Paula Crowder, treasurer; Beverly Hayman, accompanist.

Organi- zations

Organizations exist for varying purposes—for social activity, for amusement, to honor, to serve. An integral part of school life, organizations provide opportunities to meet others, is a means of expressing creative abilities, and satisfies the need “to belong.”

 Treasurer Gary Ogden
 Sponsor Mr. Donald Johnson

Responsibility in the school lies mainly with the principal; yet he delegates duties not only to his faculty, but to the Student Council—an organization of young leaders which observes school policy, mediates and recommends to the administration. It aims not to make the rules, but to follow them and develop school pride.

Each member represents a homeroom, acting as its delegate, working on the solution of problems, and learning group responsibility and citizenship. Sponsored by Mr. Donald Johnson, Dean of Boys, the Student Council directs committees such as school traffic and safety, special objectives, orientation for new students, and homeroom competition. Working for welfare projects, the Thanksgiving Drive and March of Dimes by supplying baskets of food or monetary contributions, the Student Council organizes aid for the less fortunate.

Class presidents help Betsy Harris, Welfare Committee Chairman, with "March of Dimes."

Dick Hyde places Student Council minutes in the teachers' mailboxes.

Student Council directs Homecoming activities, including homeroom competition.

Juniors register with Jackie Eslinger, Elections Committee Chairman.

With emphasis on service, the Inter-Club Council is primarily a regulatory body. Working cooperatively with all and following closely the policy of the Student Council, it is an intermediary between the clubs of the school and the student government. Each club is represented by its vice-president, with the vice-president of the Student Council acting as president.

The council organizes the school calendar by hearing all requests for future projects. Details are discussed and a list of approved activities is announced at each meeting. This year, in all activities, an emphasis was placed on school spirit.

Through coordinated planning the Inter-Club Council smoothes the succession of activities throughout the year.

HONOR SOCIETY

Having trouble with Spanish this year? Or is it algebra? The project of the Scholastic Honor Society, known as the White 'M' Club, is tutoring students who need help in their school work.

To receive a white 'M' and become a member of the Scholastic Honor Society, one must make no less than two B's and no lower than a "good" in citizenship on his report card for three grading periods in a single year.

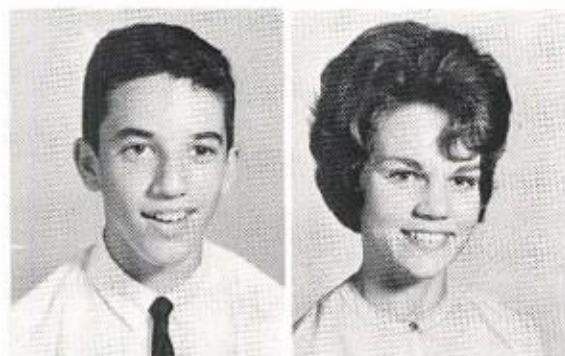

Lanny Cecka gives Joan Moody some help with her algebra in a spare minute on Study Day.

Pete Dias, Steve Brown, and Don Hastings check with Mr. Masiello to see which students need tutors.

Cheerleaders, drill teamers, and varsity athletes are eligible for membership in the 'M' Club, an organization honoring students who have earned a red letter through active participation in one of these phases of athletics.

Since members of the Sugar 'Canes now receive their letters for one year of participation rather than two, the enrollment of 'M' Club has greatly increased. The membership is large, and the organization meets only a few times a year. It is necessary that most of the projects and plans for the club be carried out within established committees.

'M' Club annually sponsors a dance after one of the football games. Members and their dates also enjoy a beach picnic during the last week of school.

Officers of the organization are elected at the first meeting of each school year.

The largest percentage of girls in the 'M' Club are Sugar 'Canes, whose uniforms are inspected before each football game.

School spirit soars as students place the "Manatee" sign above the home bleachers and urge their team on to victory.

At an October banquet held in the Conquistador Room of the Bradenton Cabana, Z Club received its charter, installed officers, and became the second girls' service organization at Manatee.

Under the sponsorship of the Bradenton Chapter of the Zonta Club, Z Club planned and completed many projects during the school year, including a pre-school reception for new teachers, a car wash, and a sale of "Lick Lakeland" suckers during the week of the Manatee-Lakeland football game.

Winter season found Z Club members working at the Salvation Army during Christmas and helping with the March of Dimes in February. The main goal of Z Club, however, is raising money for a scholarship fund.

5 VICTORIES Take Sting Out Of Early

A new season—a new team effort—and another chance. This faced the Hurricane Varsity Football Team and its coaches Bob Stewart, Bob Milby, Chad Choate, and Bill Yates. Wearing the 1962 Conference Crown, this new squad had to prove to the coaches, the pre-season poles, and themselves that they could draw the support of the fans again this year.

The coaches started the year with only a handful of boys, half of whom had never seen conference play. With the support of 13 returning lettermen, they started to shape a team that would excite fans with thrilling wins, disappointing losses, and heartbreaking ties.

After defeating arch rival Sarasota, losing to two of the top 10 teams in the state (Robinson and Winter Haven), and tying Tampa Chamberlain, the 'Canes came alive to win four remaining conference games and to tie the third ranked team in the state, North Miami 0-0. The season ended with a disappointing 28-27 loss to the Lakeland Dreadnaughts.

The Tommy Paul Most Valuable Player Award was given to Richard Trapp during homecoming activities. On the All-Conference team were Richard Trapp, offensive halfback, and Bain Culton, offensive fullback.

Once again it was that time of year when all Sailors had to prepare for the oncoming Hurricane. Opening their season at Irhig Field, Manatee held the Sailors scoreless as the 'Canes sank Sarasota 13-0.

In the first conference tilt, Robinson handed Manatee a 19-7 loss. The only 'Cane touchdown was set up by a pass interception by Wiley Parker followed by a six yard TD jaunt by Don Ackles. In the opener at Hawkins Stadium, the Hurricanes tied the powerful Chamberlain Chiefs 7-7.

The Blue Devils from Winter Haven proved to be too hot to handle as they overran the 'Canes 34-13. A pass to end Rick Carlson by Skip Lujack and a 37 yard run by Richard Trapp led the squad to its only TD's of the night. On the road for the next conference game, the 'Canes defeated Plant 28-7, aided by the running of Richard Trapp and the line play of Wayne Dimond. Following the spirited Manatee cheering section, the Manatee squad walloped Hillsborough 17-7.

With homecoming activities coming to a climax Friday, November 8, the 'Canes played host to the King Lions. Led by the quarterbacking of Skip Lujack and the TD's by Richard Trapp, the Hurricane fans had a King sized homecoming as the 'Canes romped over the Lions 40-6.

With the King victory fresh in their minds, the Hurricanes faced a stronger, bigger North Miami squad. Ranked as third in the state, the North Miami team was stopped dead. Both defensive squads held each team scoreless through the last seconds of play. A Pioneer field goal attempt was blocked with one second remaining.

In the final games the 'Canes slaughtered the Jefferson Dragons 59-7, with the entire bench seeing plenty of action. They then traveled to Lakeland where the Dreadnaughts nipped the Manatee eleven 28-27.

Four new coaches working 'til dusk, and a determined J.V. team putting in hours of back-breaking practice, provided Manatee Junior Varsity fans with a winning season, losing only to Lakeland in a hard fought grid-iron battle.

In their first encounter, the Baby 'Canes came home with a 7-0 win over Riverview. Entertaining Sarasota, the Junior Varsity picked up a second victory, overwhelming the Sailors 32-0.

Pulling out of a 6-6 halftime tie, the 'Canes came up to beat the Ft. Myers Green Waves 19-12. Then with a 3-0-0 record the Baby 'Canes traveled to Chamberlain where the Chiefs handed them a 20-20 tie. Without quarterback Barry Fredrickson the 'Canes didn't have the offensive punch they experienced earlier.

Junior Varsity coaches for this year are Hugh Thimlar, Charles Woodson, William Murray, and Roy Ridenour.

Quarterback Mike Donati led the 'Canes to their next victory as the Jefferson Dragons fell 14-0. A hard fought defensive battle decided the game as a strong Manatee line held up to the Jefferson attack.

In their final game of the season, the 'Canes played host to Lakeland at Hawkins Stadium. Even with the return of quarterback Barry Fredrickson, the 'Canes lost as the Dreadnaughts out-scored them 19-7.

Thrilling football fans with their precision marching during half-time were the 81 members of the Sugar Canes.

CANES Present Precision Half-time Shows

From the first whistle to the last drum cadence the Sugar Canes with the Hurricane Marching Band performed precision drills and intricate half-time maneuvers for the football fans. Under the direction of Miss Mildred Emmelhainz, assisted by Mrs. Ann Caldwell, the Sugar Canes performed the dance "Ballin' the Jack" at the Jefferson and Lakeland games. During football season the Sugar Canes spent sixth period perfecting their Friday night shows. Thursday afternoons were used practicing the dance routine.

Linda Snapp was elected "Drill Teamer of the Year" by the Sugar Canes. This honor goes to a three year member who has done outstanding work for the squad.

For the second year the Sugar Canes were led by head majorette Bonnie Loring (center), assisted by Debbie Combs and Diane Ward.

Presenting the colors during pre-game ceremonies are color guard members, Linda Snapp, Valeen Moore, Betsy Harris, and Tessie Carver.

Elected as officers for the Sugar Canes are Dot Oakley, first lieutenant; Vickie Scott, captain; and Lois Oakley, second lieutenant.

Squad Uses Balanced Attack Throughout Season

A new coach brought a new meaning to basketball this year at Manatee High School. Coach Hugh Thimlar, a native of Indiana, not only made basketball a money-making sport for the school, but aroused the students, the city of Bradenton, and the whole county to a sport which had, in the past few years, little following.

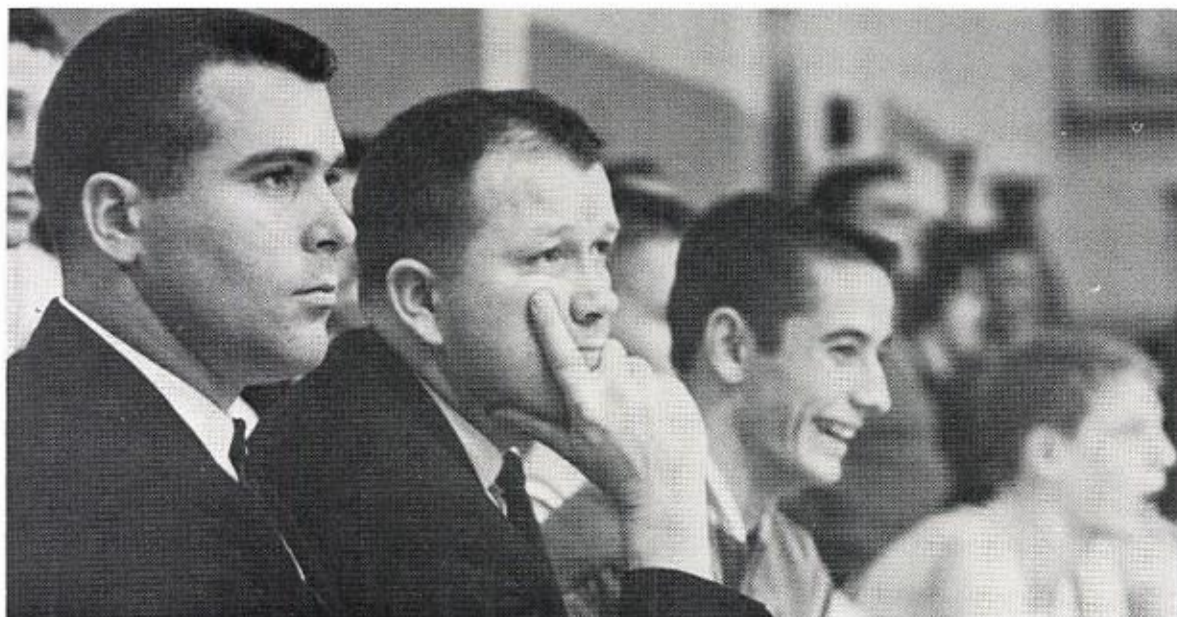

For the first time in three years, the 'Canes won their openers. They trounced King, the Sailors, and the Jefferson Dragons, only to lose to one of the top teams in the state, Hillsborough.

Coach Thimlar also initiated a Holiday Tournament for the first time in many years for Manatee High School. Manatee was host with three other teams participating, Plant City, Charlotte, and Southeast. On the first night of competition, the 'Canes slaughtered Charlotte and in the championship game, Manatee nipped the Planters.

Following the tournament, the 'Canes racked up three home victories against Robinson, Lakeland, and Winter Haven. Trying to break their Tampa jinx, the Manatee squad traveled to Chamberlain where the Chiefs edged the 'Canes 67 to 66.

The 'Canes next traveled to Plant where the Panthers handed them their fourth defeat. But the 'Canes won their first road trips as they trounced King and Sarasota.

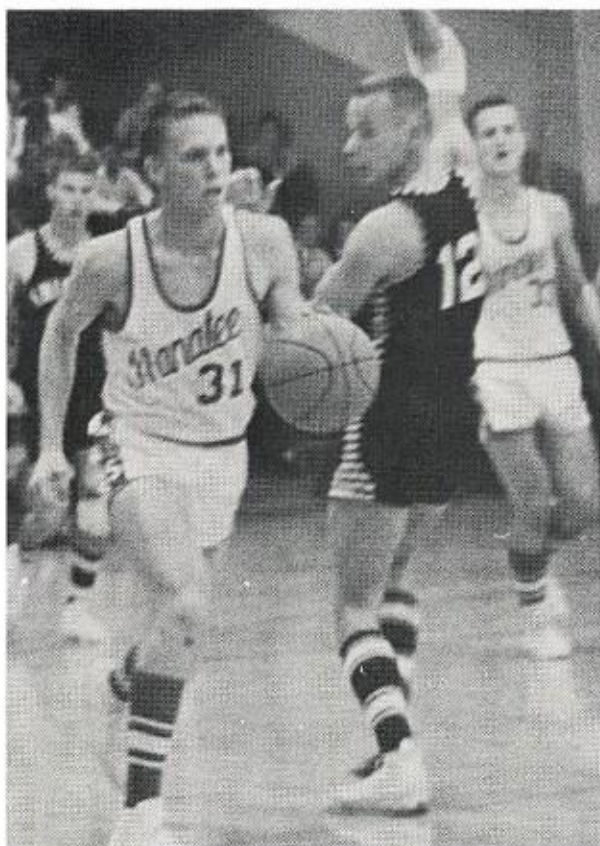

The big game of the year, the 'Canes' second encounter with Hillsborough, proved to be everything the 'Canes didn't want. A capacity crowd in Walker Gym saw the 'Canes go down to a 75 to 60 loss. In one of their last games, the 'Canes walloped the KMI squad in Venice with a score of 105 to 77 to equal the schools scoring record. By defeating Chamberlain, Manatee clinched second place in the Western Conference. The 'Canes finished the season with 19 wins and 5 losses.

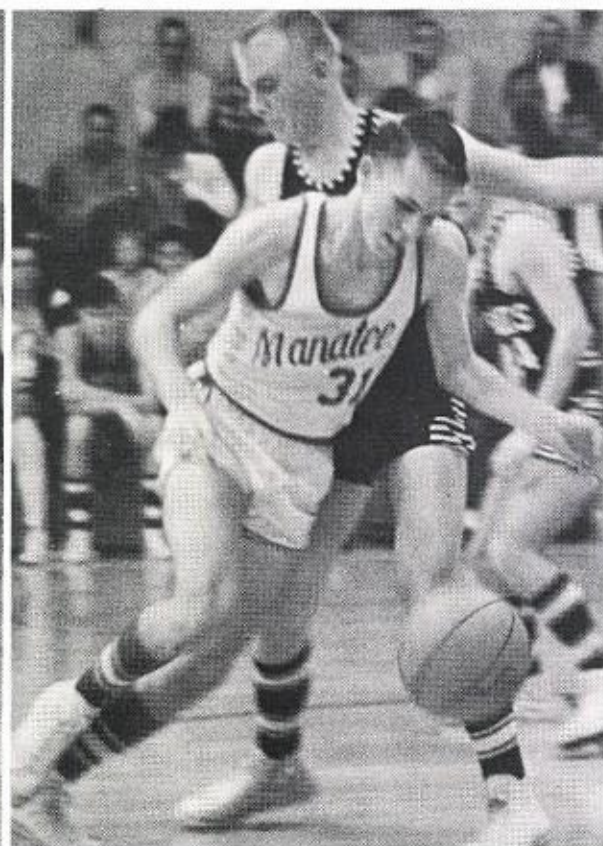

Coach Robert Milby and Coach Hugh Thimlar watch intently as the officials make a call.

Girls' P E Classes Learn Gymnastics, Rhythms.

Providing exercise and a release from tension, developing coordination and promoting sportsmanship through cooperation, the physical education department includes a special program for girls.

Essentials are taught through limbering exercises and days are spent in the gym with tumbling and gymnastics. Extra activity comes through rhythms and training for track. Physical fitness tests determine the individual progress of athletic ability. The girls learn rules before field practice of games such as soccer, softball, baseball, volleyball, basketball and archery—featuring intramural competition throughout the season. Less demanding health and first aid courses are substituted for those unable to participate in physical exercise.

Hurdling is an energetic part of girls' track. Susie Wright's jump shows the style which Miss Mable Clark aims to develop.

Yellin' Belles CHEER Hurricanes To Victory

Take fourteen hardworking girls; give each of them a uniform; institute hours of training and you have the cheerleaders. Under the direction of Miss Mable Clark and co-captained by Beverly Hayman and Susan Kenworthy, the Yellin' Belles prepare pep rallies, present skits, and cheer at athletic contests.

Before each home football game, two members of the squad entertain the cheerleaders and Miss Clark with a supper.

During the first part of the year, practice is on Monday and Tuesday after school. Sixth period practice continues until the end of basketball season when practice is suspended until two weeks before tryouts in the spring.

Two separate squads, captained by Beverly and Susan, cheer during alternate basketball contests. During second quarter new cheers are planned for spring practice.

Cheerleading requires practice to be sure of the precision needed for the execution of cheers.

Cheerleader co-captains, Beverly Hayman and Susan Kenworthy, look over the pep rally skit.

CINDERMAN Score Repeated Victories

Brian Andresen demonstrates correct form as Joe Spivey watches.

A track may be defined as a path beaten by feet. So, track as a sport involves training, straining, exercising and practicing, on with gritted teeth. Track is a way of life, a conditioning. It includes all events on the track and field—snappy starts, speedy sprints, enduring long distances, jumping, hurling, heaving—general development of skills in preparation for competition. Under the instruction of Coaches Bill Yates and Chad Choate, the '64 cindermen hoped that showings made at the opening spring meet against Sarasota would set the trend for more victories to follow.

The 'Cane track team is spurred on by the individual efforts of Jim Walker, John Espy, Brian Andresen and the Woodland brothers, and by cooperation through relays. Despite lack of spectator encouragement, the cindermen hope for more school support as they carry out an effort for victory and the Conference championship.

To some students, March means spring fever. To others, it means submission to the powerful call of the diamond. Loosening muscles, levelling swings, strengthening the pitching arm, and perfecting slides—team members put final touches to their preparations for the '64 season.

Despite loss of previous pitching staff and powerful hitters, Bert Woodson in the position of new coach, has a good nucleus to work with. Returning lettermen Don Ackles, Dick Buckle, Skip Lujack and Richard Trapp, together with promising form shown by rookie George Hoover, are strong forces in the team's reorganization.

Scheduled to play a difficult and testing season led by the pitching arms of Don Sheffield and Bill Pringle, the Manatee diamondmen made forceful efforts to better the results of the season's first showing. Games were announced to encourage more enthusiastic interest from the student body.

With '63 record of State championship and a central force of experienced talent plus a strong group of supporting players, the 'Canes looked ahead with expectation.

RACKET Squad Trains For Competition

From the many people who compete for places on the tennis team, only five boys and five girls play in the intra-school games. The five returning lettermen for the boys, Pete Klear, Tom Leonard, Bill Corbin, Dennis Hill, and Greg Heuberger constitute the team this year and at any time may be challenged for their positions. The same applies to Margaret Kane, Diane Walker, Jean Daughaday, and Caralie Cannon, the returning girls from last year who have received their letters.

Instructed by Miss Mable Clark, the racket squad begins practice second semester. Inter-team matches are held throughout the year to determine who will play in the conference matches.

Following the regular season contests, the teams entered conference playoffs. The girls came out on top to win the conference crown while the boys tied for third. In district playoff, Mary Jane Noll was the only player to win her finals match.

Classes

Class life begins with the first meeting of Sophomores in the auditorium, and moves through new experiences, anticipates the Junior-Senior Reception, and ends, for most who begin it, with a cap and gown.

Stir a little excitement and sprinkle lightly with apprehension and the meaning of "sophomore" takes shape and form . . . It means anticipation of entering a new school . . . the bewildering job of trying to find the right classroom at the right time . . . learning the rules and regulations of a new library and office system . . . filling out the many forms that must be sent to the office for records . . . the problem of becoming adjusted to Study Days. The fun of joining new clubs and sometimes the embarrassment of initiations . . . learning that a sophomore must show respect at all times to both juniors and seniors . . . rehearsing for the Sophomore One-Act Play . . . wondering if the play will be a success and if everyone will remember his lines . . . electing class officers and a faculty sponsor to guide the class through the year. Studying for the quizzes in biology, a required course for all sophomores . . . increasing vocabulary in 10th grade English, another required subject. Watching the excitement of upperclassmen as they prepare for the Junior-Senior Reception . . . getting the costumes ready for the people who are chosen to serve at the reception. As school comes to a close . . . planning hours of summer fun and relaxation . . . realizing that in three months the return to school will bring many changes . . . new challenges and opportunities.

Colleen Ellingsen waits for Stuart Weisgerber to open her soft drink as Jac Cooper offers Karen Decker a snack. Traditionally, sophomores end the year with a party on the patio.

It means many things to be a junior . . . satisfaction in knowing that you are more than a sophomore and yet realizing that you must recognize the prestige of the seniors . . . complete familiarity with a school that was strange only a few months ago. . . . Hard work on the annual magazine drive . . . hoping the goal will be reached . . . competition with previous classes . . . worrying about whether or not there will be enough money to sponsor the Junior-Senior Reception. . . . Groans as American history teachers assign homework . . . memorizing dates, names, and places with the knowledge that this subject must be passed in order to graduate. . . . A reluctant realization that high school is almost over . . . thinking more seriously of colleges . . . writing to universities . . . investigations of entrance requirements. . . . Spending at least two or three nights a week on Junior-Senior decorations . . . searching for a suitable theme . . . finding a band that the budget can afford . . . figuring and calculating to keep within monetary limits . . . locating a building where decorations can be kept . . . keeping the theme a secret from insistent demands of curious seniors . . . a final sense of pride and happiness as the Senior Class is presented with an unforgettable Reception. . . . Then the unquieting knowledge that in three months, you will be seniors.

In December, the audience shook with laughter at "We Shook the Family Tree" presented by the junior class.

The Goal...

There's a special feeling among seniors born of mixed emotions . . . superiority as seniors march from Assembly smiling at still seated underclassmen . . . the feel of cold metal as senior rings are slipped on for the first time . . . pride as seniors are recognized on Senior Recognition Day . . . worry about grades and exams as college life is explained on College Day . . . pride as "We're the best forevermore; we're the class of '64!" shatters the air . . . excitement as Junior-Senior swirls around in a blaze of enchanted glory . . . hurry as announcements are ordered, caps and gowns are measured . . . sadness as it dawns that many fond memories must be left behind to become just that . . . hilarious gaiety at the senior picnic . . . and finally solemnity as the silent rows of blue and white file up the aisle to accept diplomas knowing their goal has been realized at last. . . .

Acknowledgements

In writing these last few words before closing the book, there are emotions of gratitude . . . thanks to Paragon Press, and representative, Don Hambrick for encouraging and prodding us along . . . Miss Mildred Emmelhainz, Mrs. Betty Brumfiel, Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper, Mrs. Laura Meadows for answering endless questions about people and their names . . . to photographers Bill Stewart for covering special events and Bob Stewart for photographing nearly 400 seniors . . . to the students for their interest and cooperation . . . to the staff, Sandy for her ceaseless efforts and ideas, Ruth Anne for doing more than her share, Trevor for working towards perfection, and to Valeen, Gail, Nancy, Jack, Kathay, Gene, Sharon, Laura, Carol, Patsy, and David for devoting so many extra hours of their time . . . to Mr. Ben Tillett for photography and advice on advertising and copy . . . and especially to Miss Joe Berta Bullock for seeing the book through all dilemmas and problems to its conclusion here.

As all those who are privileged with a responsibility such as this, I had the ideal of perfection in mind. But as the book progressed and deadlines approached and we became frustrated with layout problems, unwritten copy, and missing pictures; perfection was replaced with "get it done." I wanted to tell others about you and me, our lives filled with pressures, fears, fun, and hopes, but some things were just too difficult to express and others were lost as our minds became cluttered with the demands of each day. Success or failure? Each of you will have a different answer, for each, as an individual will view the book from a different angle.

Published by the students and for them, the 1964 'Cane Echo begins new ideas, but continues the faithful tradition of cherishing memories for all.
